Officers even land on the Cuban coast, searching for information. On the 8th, the Department, with great good sense, demands certain explanations. How were the ships in question recognized as being Spaniards, or as armored or unarmored And here already we have the Resolute less affirmative--she saw nothing but lights, . But the other one holds out; captain, officers, crew, all are agreed, having observed the enemy for half an hour at the distance of a mile. Immediately, a monitor is despatched to Havana, the cruisers at Tampa are reinforced to the number of four, and a field battery is established at the end of the jetty! On the 10th of June, Sampson replies in the most sceptical manner, all the time inveighing against the unforeseen delay. Finally, on the 12th of June, it is announced that the vessels seen by the Eagle were...
