Purchasers can download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1903 Excerpt: .about himself. He put what he said about each member of the family into a separate paragraph. How many paragraphs did he have? Why? The first line of each paragraph should begin two inches in from the left edge of the paper. Write your name at the close of your composition to the right, and the date of writing to the left. When you begin to write compositions you must remember all you have learned about writing sentences correctly, punctuation, the use of capital letters, etc. LESSON CXXVIII. Composition. In this little composition which follows, point out all that you have learned in the preceding lesson. Notice how straight the lines are and that the margins are neat: Paragraphing. 145 How many paragraphs are there in this composition which you have just studied? Why? LESSON CXXIX. Reproduction. You may now close your books and write the story of The Wind and the Sun in your own words. Take great pains to use capital letters and punctuation marks properly. Use great care in paragraphing and in spelling your words. Try to make your composition just as neat as the one in the book. Arrange it in paragraphs. LESSON CXXX. Paragraphing. I. Suppose you are writing about a flower. You write three sentence in describing the sepals, four in telling about the petals, five in describing the stamens, two in telling about the pistil, five in describing the leaves, and four in describing the stem of the plant....
