It is husbandry, then, and manufactures, commerce, and navigation, which every where, in later ages, employ, and maintain, the great body of the people. Now, the labour demanded, during the present reign, to carry forward the national bufi There is reason to believe, however, that the above enumeration did not contain the sailors of the port of London. ness, ness, agricultural and commercial, could not, by any possibility, have been performed, by the inferior numbers of the industrious classes, who doubtless existed, in the reign of King William. And from the foregoing reasonings, and facts, we may certainly conclude, with one of the ablest writers of any age, on political ceconomy: The liberal reward of labour, as it is the effect of increasing wealth, so it is the cause of increasing population: To complain of it high wages is to lament over the necessary effect and cause of the greatest public prosperity. It is absurd, then, to argue, that as employments increase, population diminishes; that as hands are wanted, fewer hands should be found; and that as greater comforts are conferred on mankind, the natural propensity of man to multiply, and to people the earth, should become less powerful, in its genial energies. In calculating the numbers of people, we must attentively consider the state of society,...
